

NEIGHBORHOOD FESTIVAL – Our Gift to Midtown NA

The S. Ellen Jones Neighborhood Festival on Saturday was held September 12. This annual event in conjunction with St. John Presbyterian Church is our annual gift to our neighbors in Midtown New Albany, Indiana. Along 13th Street and at Ritter Park across Oak Street, a feast of free fun was enjoyed by kids and parents alike. Activities included free games, hot dogs, haircuts, music, petting zoo, pizzas, bouncy house, 911 remembrance, color guard, snow-cones, and much more.

Although weather was threatening in the morning, sunshine and pleasant temperatures followed.

The individuals (pictured) in the red T-shirts (WORK HARD, PRAY HARD, DON'T WORRY) made it all happen for the 18th year.

This is but one way the Cardinal Ritter Birthplace Foundation, Inc. continues Cardinal Ritter's community outreach legacy well into the 21st century.

Our thanks to Pastor Allen Colwell and the parishioners and GILDA'S FLOYD (our primary tenant) for their participation.

A special thanks goes to the cosmetology students from Prosser Career Education Center who provided free haircuts to both children and adults.

Your comments are always welcome.
